

DETAILED CONSENT TO PARTICIPATE IN A RESEARCH STUDY

You are being invited to take part in the following research study: Sexual Stories and Satisfaction

Researchers:

The persons conducting this study are Cory J. Cascalheira, B.A. and Tracie L. Hitter, PhD.

WHAT ARE THE PURPOSES AND PROCEDURES OF THIS STUDY?

The primary aim of the present project is to create a model of how sexual scripts become unhelpful—or maladaptive—among men who have sex with men (MSM). We are interested in how sexual practices and desires lead to sexual problems or take away from sexual satisfaction.

As a participant, you can expect up to two interviews conducted via Skype, Zoom, by phone, or in person. After answering some demographic questions in the first interview, we will ask you to tell the story of your sexual life. These questions focus on your desires (e.g., “Who do you remember being attracted to?”), fantasies (e.g., “What turns you on the most?”), behaviors (e.g., “How do you currently find your sexual partners?”), and satisfaction (e.g., “How satisfied are you with those practices?”). At the end of the first interview, we will ask if you would like to participate in a follow-up interview. During the follow-up interview, we will ask you to describe your sexual experiences and masturbatory behavior since we last met (e.g., “What did you do, feel, or think to experience what turns you on the most?”). In both interviews, you will have the chance to select a pseudonym. Any accidental information disclosed in the interview will be removed (e.g., if you disclose that your hometown is Denver, we will write “a large urban city”). Your responses will be recorded and transcribed. In addition to the researchers listed above, we may ask research assistants to help us transcribe your interview(s).

WHY ARE WE ASKING YOU TO PARTICIPATE FOR THIS STUDY?

You are being asked to participate in this study because you have experienced sexual problems and you would like to feel more sexually satisfied.

ARE THERE REASONS WHY YOU WOULD NOT QUALIFY FOR THIS STUDY?

You may be ineligible to participate in this study if:

- a) You are under the age of 18;
- b) You do not identify as a man; or
- c) You are not attracted to men.

WHAT IS THE DURATION?

Your participation in this research will last approximately 1 hour per interview. You will schedule an interview with the researchers at a convenient time for both of you. If you discuss informed consent on the same day as your interview, please anticipate an additional 10 minutes to discuss this document.

At a later date, you might be invited to review the results or offer feedback on the themes, which may take about 5 to 10 minutes.

WHERE IS THE STUDY GOING TO TAKE PLACE?

The research procedures will be conducted via Skype, Zoom, over the phone, or in person. We recommend that you schedule your interview when you have a quiet, private space available. If you are available to meet in person, you can elect to be interviewed at your home, a private location of your choosing, or in a private room on the New Mexico State University campus.

WHAT IF NEW INFORMATION IS LEARNED DURING THE STUDY THAT MIGHT AFFECT YOUR DECISION TO PARTICIPATE?

You will be informed if the Researchers learn new information that could change your mind about staying in the study. You may be asked to sign a new informed consent form if the information is provided to you after you have joined the study.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS, RISKS, COSTS, and COMPENSATIONS OF PARTICIPATION?

Benefits

The Researchers cannot know if you will get any personal benefit from taking part in this study. You may experience a positive emotion after sharing your story. However, there may be potential benefits for the public, such as a model that mental health professionals can use to help MSM who have sexual problems. Sexuality educators and sex therapists may use the model to educate the public on ways to live satisfying sexual lives.

Risks

The expected risk of participating is emotional discomfort upon bringing up difficult, possibly embarrassing memories. As a precaution, the consent form reminds you that you are free to withdraw from the study at any time or refuse to answer any questions without penalty. Additionally, Researchers will terminate the interview, without penalty, if it seems likely that the emotional discomfort is too painful. The Researchers (one counseling psychology trainee and one licensed psychologist) will continue to check in with you to ensure that the memories and emotions are manageable.

Participants may also have concerns about a breach of confidentiality given the sensitive nature of the questions. However, responses are completely confidential; only pseudonyms will be used. No identifying information (i.e., name, birth date, hometown, current city) will be reported or published.

If you believe you are hurt, distressed, or if you get sick because of something that is due to the study, you should immediately contact the Researchers and/or the Office of Research Integrity and Compliance at New Mexico State University, 575-646-7177 or ovpr@nmsu.edu. The Researchers will help you find a mental health provider in your area.

In addition to risks described in this consent, you may experience a previously unknown risk. If at any time you experience discomfort or distress in relation to the study, you are encouraged to contact a mental health professional. Costs

There are no costs associated with taking part in this study.

Compensations

Once you complete the first interview, you will receive a $10 Amazon.com gift card. If you decide to participate in the follow-up interview and complete it, you will receive another $10 Amazon.com gift card.

WILL YOU BE GIVEN INDIVIDUAL RESULTS FROM THE STUDY?

For this study, you will not be given individual results. However, if you are interested, the Researchers will share the overall results with you.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The Researchers will keep your name and other identifying information private to the extent that we can. The Researchers will make every effort to prevent anyone who is not on the research team from knowing that you gave us information, or what that information is. You should know that there are some circumstances in which the Researchers may have to show your information to other people. If the Researchers become aware that you want to harm yourself or harm others (especially children and the elderly), they will follow legal requirements and report the incident to the appropriate individuals or authorities.

The Researchers will take careful steps to keep your information confidential and deidentified. No personally identifiable information (e.g., name, birth date, place of birth, etc.) will be collected. In addition to pseudonyms, any accidental disclosures of information that may reveal your identity (i.e., your username on social media, your current city) will be removed during transcription. All interviews will be audio and/or video recorded. The recordings will be downloaded, encrypted, and stored on a password-protected USB drive. After downloading the recordings, they will be deleted from Zoom or Skype. If you elect to conduct your interview by phone or in person, the researchers will record the interview in a private room using a voice recorder. If you conduct your interview by phone, please schedule your interview at a time when others cannot hear your responses (such as in your home when you are alone).

The Researchers and their research assistants will have access to the recordings. The encrypted USB drives and recording device will be stored in a locked cabinet in the CEP Graduate Lounge at New Mexico State University. After the Researchers have transcribed your recorded interview, they will play the recording while analyzing the transcript to ensure your story is not misrepresented. Once data analysis is complete, the recording will be deleted so that your voice cannot be identified.

Transcriptions will then be transferred to password-protected computers and, in the interest of scientific integrity, will be stored on the Open Science Framework (<https://www.osf.io>).

The Researchers will make every effort to safeguard your information during this process, but the security of information obtained through commercial communications platforms, such as Zoom and Skype, cannot be guaranteed. However, both companies use 256-bit TLS and AES-256 encryption. Please be aware that phone lines are typically not encrypted. If you are in the Las Cruces area, private rooms are available on the New Mexico State University campus.

The findings and results of the study may appear publicly, in whole or in part, as dissertations, journal articles, books and/or book chapters, conference presentations, and on the Open Science Framework (<https://osf.io>).

WHERE WILL INFORMATION BE STORED AND FOR HOW LONG?

The information, in audio or video format, will be stored on encrypted USB drives for no more than 3 years. Once the recordings are deleted, the transcriptions will be stored on password-protected computers and on the Open Science Framework.

IF YOU HAVE QUESTIONS OR CONCERNS OR WANT TO WITHDRAW:

Participation in this study is strictly voluntary. You may withdraw from the study at any time without penalty.

If you choose to leave the study, you have the right to decide whether data collected up to that point that can be linked to your identity will remain in the study database or should be removed.

The Researchers conducting the study may need to remove you from the study. This may occur for a number of reasons. You may be removed from the study if you are not able to follow the directions, they find that your participation in the study is more risk than benefit to you, or the agency paying for the study chooses to stop the study early for a number of scientific reasons.
